REDS CAPTURE ODESSA, NAZI DEATH TRAP

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

"Pete" the nondescript cigar-smoking, crying, package-carrying dog who makes his home about the Main-Court shoe repair shop and news stand, corner of Court and Main streets, has a new job.

He is now following Virgil Vincent about on the streets carrying an 8 by 10 sign upon which is printed the words: "Vote for Virgil Vincent for Sheriff."

The cardboard is attached to a piece of wood, and "Pete" proudly carries the sign by the piece of wood and wherever Virgil and "Pete" go, the dog with the sign attracts general attention.

Pete smokes cigars, puffing upon them like a veteran and when he is told to lie on his back and cry, he does it so realistically his whines almost bring tears (of laughter) to the eyes of his audience. Pete also watches the traffic lights faithfully before crossing streets in the up-town area.

Say, you anglers, what has become of all those big bass you usually pull out of Fayette County streams about this time of year?

I think I know your reason for not reporting some of the big fellows, and that is—the streams have been too high during most of the favorable fishing weather.

Anyway, don't forget when you do land a big one (or let a bigger one get away), down here at the Record-Herald we are always interested in your catch.

Speaking of fishing reminds me of the time Deputy Sheriff Ott Reno (whom I suspect is even now saving gas to make his annual pilgrimage to Brush or Sunfish Creek to entice some of the big fellows out of their haunts) landed a two pound channel catfish by using a minnow and along came a 10 pounder (I believe it was a shovelnose catfish) and swallowed the first fish until about half of the two pounder was protruding from the big fellow's mouth.

Ott could hardly believe his eyes when he pulled in his double catch.

The current slump in egg prices may be causing poultry growers some concern . . . but to the M. J. Whitfield family, who raise chickens at their country home on the Jeffersonville Pike as a practical wartime hobby, it must be overshadowed by the interest the little flock of White Leghorns and Rocks provides.

The Whitfields who came here from Detroit . . . the head of the house is one of the high officials of the Aeronautical Products . . . are getting a taste of rural life . . . and no doubt are finding it full of surprises . . . among which the chickens are only one.

E. E. Steed brought a couple of eggs into the Record-Herald Office he had taken from a nest in the Whitfield henhouse where he was doing some odd jobs . . . They were enough to arouse the curiosity of any life-long farmer, let alone a family from a big city . . . truly they were oddities . . . One was a little more than 3 1/2 inches from end to end and had a circumference of nearly 7 inches . . . the other was less than an inch long and looked hardly larger than a robin's egg . . . both were creamy white and fully developed . . . they came out of adjoining nests . . . needless to say, the Whitfields were somewhat set up over their freaks of nature.

BRICKER WANTS NO CURB OF U. S. FORCES

SPOKANE, April 10.—(AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, campaigning in Pacific Northwest in the interests of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, has declared opposition to any world authority or world government that might exercise any control over American military forces.

"We must keep our government free and strong. We must keep it in the hands of the people," he said during a press conference last night.

Bricker also assailed restriction of agricultural production, charging that "nobody can do the job (of controlling production) on overall basis."

RUSSIAN DRIVE DRAWING NEARER OIL IN BALKANS

Fighting Flares Again in Cassino Ruins and Anzio Beachhead

By RICHARD McMURRAY

Berlin announced today the evacuation of Odessa, Black Sea naval base and seventh city of Russia around which the Red Army had forged an almost complete siege ring.

The capture of the city of 600,000 has not yet been confirmed by Moscow. At midnight, the Russians said they had broken into the rail yards three miles from the city which had become a death trap for thousands of Nazis. The city fell to the Germans October 18, 1941, after a two-month siege. The Germans asserted installations were destroyed last week and that troops and materiel had been removed last night—an unlikely story in view of the snapped communications.

Other Russian armies stood on the Czechoslovak border deep in the Carpathian mountain barrier to the Hungarian plain. Others swept up 200 Rumanian towns including one three miles west of the important rail center of Iasi (Jassy). Russian cannon rolled within 160 miles of the Ploesti oil fields and probably beyond some lesser oil fields in the north. The Germans reported strong attacks in the Crimea where seven enemy divisions are by-passed and isolated.

Reds in Czechoslovakia
A Czech brigade operating with the Red army has moved up to the front to be among the first units to enter old Czechoslovakia, it was disclosed today.

Entry of the Red army into Rutenia (the Carpatho-Ukraine), former Czech territory now held by Hungary, will have a major effect, it was believed here, splitting the Germans' northern armies from their forces fighting.

FRIENDS ASK REST FOR TOP YANK ACE

Piqua Officials Message Air Forces Commander

PIQUA, April 10.—(AP)—This Miami County city wants President Roosevelt to send home for a "much deserved rest" its No. 1 citizen—Capt. Don S. Gentile, America's ace of aces.

Piqua city commissioners in a telegram to the president and Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the U. S. Army air forces, asked that Gentile "be returned home in the very near future as a deserving tribute to an outstanding flier."

Gentile became the nation's all-time top fighter pilot last Saturday when his accredited total of German planes destroyed in sweeps over Nazi-held Europe reached 27 with three others yet to be recognized officially.

RABIES TOLL IN NATION IS WORST IN FIVE YEARS

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—Rabies, killing man and beast across the nation, has climbed so that final figures on 1943 may show the worst toll in five years. Preliminary government estimates from the states—Texas and Louisiana have not yet reported—tell this story:

At least 33 humans and 7,348 animals died of rabies in 1943. Most of the animals were dogs. The others were cattle, cats, sheep, swine, horses, goats, wolves and foxes.

OVERHAUL OF LIQUOR DEPARTMENT FAVORED

CLEVELAND, April 10.—(AP)—In the opening address of his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, former congressman Martin L. Sweeney said he favored an immediate overhauling of the state's liquor control system and repeal of the sales tax on food, clothing and medicines with eventual complete abolition of the tax.

Truk Is Blasted As Jap Drive In India Increases

Enemy Pushing Down From Burma Runs Into Clash With Allied Forces in Race Against Monsoons - - Meanwhile, Big Nip Island Naval Base Being Given Pre-Invasion 'Softening Up' Assaults

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ

(By the Associated Press)
Allied headquarters today conceded the Japanese drive into India has put the Imphal Plain under virtual siege and has reached the outskirts of Kohima, 35 jungle miles from the all-important Bengal-Assam supply route that feeds Allied forces in China and northern Burma.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's communique admitted pressure on Imphal from the south has increased and added that "Allied forces are in contact with the enemy."

Kohima, 60 miles north of Imphal, already has fallen, according to Tokyo claims, but the Allied Southeast Asia Command simply reported a "small initial penetration" of Kohima's outskirts has been beaten off.

Allied headquarters also revealed for the first time Japanese are attempting to out-flank Imphal defenders from the southwest when the communique reported Japanese patrols have been battled by Allied troops west of Bishampur which is 18 1/2 miles southwest of Imphal.

MEAT RATION PLAN BLAMED FOR LOSSES

Spoilage Cited as Reason for Increased Allowance

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—(AP)—Quantities of decomposed meat unfit for human consumption have been seized by municipal and state food inspectors during the present war in amounts "far in excess of normal and to a much greater extent than during the first world war," Herman C. Lythgoe, president of the Association of Food and Drug Officials of the United States, declared today.

In an address prepared for the 48th conference of the association, Lythgoe, food and drug director of the Massachusetts department of public health, said "consumers are not receiving a sufficient number of points to buy all the meat being allocated to meat dealers. This may, to some extent, be responsible for the decomposed meat found by inspectors in public meat markets."

TOLL OF SUBMARINES INCREASES IN MARCH

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill report merchant shipping losses in March were "a little higher" than in February but that the anti-submarine war continues to be successful.

Although the attacks by German submarines against the northern supply lines to Russia were stalled by the Allies, the undersea warfare spread from the Barents Sea, on the approach to Murmansk, to the Indian Ocean on the south.

AND HE LIVED TO TELL TALE Kentucky Boy Plunges 19,000 Feet In Cut Off Tail Of Flying Fortress

U. S. 15TH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Italy, April 10.—(AP)—A 27-year-old Kentucky farm youth told an amazing story today of falling 19,000 feet in the dismembered tail of a Flying Fortress which landed in a tree top—and thinking he was dead.

Air force surgeons said Sgt. James A. Raley, Route three Henderson, Ky., is little the worse for his experience, "except for a cut on the chin. This is the story of the modest, almost shy airman, as told from a hospital bed.

"It happened on my 13th mission. I thought about that going down—about the time I was telling myself 'in another few minutes I'll be dead.'"

"A lot of the details I can't talk about, but I can say it was a long way from home. I still was in the tail gun turret, looking out.

AS CHINA'S VAST PROGRAM
goes forward in the building of many modern airfields for use against the Japs, U. S. and Chinese army engineers plan the fields and supervise the toil of 300,000 Chinese workers. Machinery is not available so, in the age-old tradition, hand and muscle is made to serve instead. A large body of laborers (left) pull a heavy roller over stones, chipped into small pieces by hand, to smooth a runway as a Liberator bomber flies overhead. As soon as one airstrip is completed, the workers pick up their makeshift wheelbarrows and other conveyances (right) and head toward another section of the selected site to start building other runways to be used for assaults against the enemy. ## ANTI-AAA FARMERS NOT SO TOUGH WHEN THEIR BLUFF CALLED

GREENVILLE, April 10.—(AP)—All was quiet today on Dark County's farm front.

A group of farmers, opposed to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program, had insisted that Ora Fellers, Darke County AAA chairman, quit by Saturday, but the day came and passed and Fellers remained on the job.

A policeman was on duty at the AAA office but there was no sign of any disturbance.

James Mannix, husky 28-year-old president of the Wheat Quota Protest Association of Darke County, said, "There won't be any trouble as long as the AAA doesn't try to force anything on us." Mannix is the leader of the group opposed to the AAA.

The office of Price Administration has announced it has instructed rationing boards not to consult with the AAA in gasoline rationing if it would lead to friction.

ALASKAN REPUBLICANS ARE TO SUPPORT DEWEY

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 10.—(AP)—Republican delegates from Alaska to the national convention will support Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York on the first ballot whether or not he is a candidate, said Chairman Elton Engstrom of the Alaska Republican central committee today after a poll of committee members.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY WILL TEST 'DRAFT MacARTHUR'

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP)—National interest in the Illinois primary election tomorrow will center chiefly on its test of "Draft MacArthur" sentiment in the midwest.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur won three of the 24 delegates elected in Wisconsin's primary last Tuesday.

MacArthur's name was entered in Illinois without his authorization. He is pitted against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man and political neophyte.

NAZI PLANE PLANTS BLASTED BY ALLIES

BEARING a resemblance to a scene from a western thriller is this photo of a gun duel in Wichita, Kan., between police officers and tailor Stanley K. Bargel. When a fire inspector ordered Bargel to remove fire hazards from his shop, the tailor shot and killed him. Police had to wound him four times before effecting his capture. The tailor later shot himself fatally through the head.

Congress' Cooperation Sought By Hull to Keep Policies Out Of Politics

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—A broadcast explanation of American foreign policy coupled with a plea for home front unity on international issues today launched Secretary of State Hull on a planned campaign to keep the principles of the nation's foreign policy out of election year controversies.

"We are moving closer and closer to the hour of decision" in which the United Nations will determine whether the world out of politics apparently lies in his announced intention to work with a bipartisan committee of Congress in shaping those plans in the first place. He announced last night in his unprecedentedly detailed summation of foreign policy developments that he had requested Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee to designate the bipartisan group to work with him on planning post-war world organization, and said similar arrangements would be made with the House.

CUT IN OHIO SALES TAX ADVOCATED BY LAUSCHE

SPRINGFIELD, April 10.—(AP)—A half-cent reduction in the sales tax and a "wise distribution" of the state treasury surplus are advocated by Cleveland Mayor Frank J. Lausche. Opening his campaign for the party's gubernatorial nomination Saturday, Lausche proposed the following distribution of the surplus he estimated at $125,000,000.

A permanent $40,000,000 emergency fund, $25,000,000 for care of the "mentally sick, juvenile delinquents and criminally uncontrollable," $35,000,000 for a state conservation program, and the rest for reduction of debts of local governments.

BRICKER TO SHOW HAND

COLUMBUS, April 10.—(AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker will express his views on foreign policy and international collaboration in a major address April 25 before the Ohio Society in New York, his headquarters announced here today.

DAY AND NIGHT ATTACKS MADE

Strong Force of Yanks Back Over Europe After Roaring Deep Into Poland

LONDON, April 10.—(AP)—U. S. air task forces totalling 1,000 to 1,500 bombers and fighters smashed at plane factories and airfields in Belgium and France today in the third straight day of fierce bomber blows against Nazi air power.

The Americans struck after heavy RAF night raids on rail targets at Lille and in the southern outskirts at Paris, in following up their deep Sunday plunge against aircraft factories in Poland, East Prussia and northeast Germany. Saturday they bombed Brunswick airplane plants and airdromes near Frankfurt, wrecking 148 Nazi planes in battle.

Today the heavy bombers hopped across the North Sea to smack the Evers and Virode plane repair works and Melsbroek airdrome near Brussels, aircraft factories at Bourges about 115 miles south of Paris and military objectives in the Pas-De-Calais area of France and elsewhere.

The forces were described as "strong"—indicating between 500 and 750 bombers escorted by as many Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings.

Around the Clock

The daylight fleet took off soon after the RAF heavy bombers returned from raiding Villeneuve-St. Georges, a junction on the main rail lines from southern and western France just 12 miles south of the center of Paris, and Lille, important junction on northern French rail lines.

Mosquito bombers hit Mannheim and other unspecified objectives, and extensive mine-laying operations were carried out at long range, all at a night cost of 11 planes, the Air Ministry said. It was the first major British assault in a week.

NEW STATE PRISON URGED BY WARDEN

Place Wanted To Segregate 'Desperate' Convicts

COLUMBUS, April 10.—(AP)—Warden Frank D. Henderson of Ohio Penitentiary advocated today post-war construction of a new state penal institution to house inmates who the warden feels should be separated from the "desperate" type of convict. The present prison should be used only to quarter the desperate man, while trusted inmates should be held at the London Prison farm, Henderson said.

Henderson said funds apparently would be available for the project and suggested it be recommended to the Ohio post-war program commission.

Henderson reported that the prison received 1,136 prisoners during 1943 and released 1,270. The average population was 3,481, eight percent under 1940.

FARMERS CALLED TO MEET HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

U. S. Army Men and Wounded Veteran To Discuss Food Plans

Farmers, food processors and others in Fayette and adjoining counties interested in supplying essential food to our nation's armed forces are asked to attend a public meeting called for Friday at 8 P. M. at Memorial Hall in this city. The call for the meeting has been issued by the Fayette County Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Fayette County Extension Service.

A feature of the meeting to which there is no admission charge, is to be a motion sound picture of actual battle scenes presented by the U. S. Army Quartermaster's corps and the U. S. Army signal corps. The program is arranged in the inter-acts of war food production. According to advance information a wounded veteran, recently returned from combat service, is to tell a revealing story of what our armed forces are doing and what they need.

The motion picture film to be presented is restricted by the war department and will not be shown in any theatre.

An important discussion of the part farmers of Fayette County and vicinity are expected to play in the future war effort is to be a part of the evening's program. The pressing need for certain crops will be presented, it is said. While the meeting is open to the public, children under 16 years of age are not invited.

WORK STOPS FOR GAUZE FOLDING BY RED CROSS

Supply Exhausted; More Materials Coming Here Soon

There's no more gauze at the Red Cross Surgical Dressing Unit in Memorial Hall, Mrs. Martha Braun, instructress, said today.

Work will be suspended until a new supply of gauze for the surgical dressings arrives here, Mrs. Braun said. She expects the shipment to arrive shortly.

When the last square dressing was made Friday, it was packed in a bag, tucked into one of ten cartons and shipped away. Those ten cartons contained 68,400 dressings made since the first of January.

The thousands of dressings, folded carefully from variegated squares of gauze, were made on each week-day afternoon from 1 to 4 P. M. and on Monday nights from 7 to 10 P. M.

TRUK IS BLASTED AGAIN AS JAP DRIVE INTO BURMA RUNS INTO ALLIED FORCES

India front for about six months starting any time within the next 30 days. If the Allied troops can hold on until the monsoons, the Japanese may be forced to fall back and wait for the dry season beginning next fall.

That's the grimmer side of the Pacific war scene. Steady Allied successes in the sea and air marked action on other fronts, prompting Tokyo radio to warn the Japanese home front that the war "is about to enter a real stage."

In the southwest Pacific, American airmen spoiled enemy hopes of reviving its battered base at Hollandia, New Guinea, by spreading 152 tons of bombs over the area Saturday. Other fliers dumped 234 tons of explosives over enemy installations at Wewak, New Guinea, Rabaul, New Britain and Kavieng, New Ireland.

Truk Being "Softened" In the Central Pacific, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz' forces followed up the heaviest night air attack of the war on Truk Thursday night by a new raid by Liberator bombers Friday night, the 16th smash at Japan's eastern Carolines base in 11 days.

Significantly, Nimitz' communique described the raids as "operations to soften up Truk," an expression which frequently connotes impending invasion.

Other planes ripped at Oroluk, Ponape and Ujelang in the Carolines and four enemy-held atolls in the Marshall Islands.

The British Eastern Fleet headquarters communique said two large enemy supply ships, apparently blockade runners, were scuttled by their crews after interception in the Indian Ocean.

The ships' nationality was not specified.

Australia plans to pull about 90,000 men out of its army of approximately 300,000 to meet a manpower shortage in war industries, and this disclosure by Australian War Minister Francis Forde caused some concern in Washington.

War in Italy

New Zealand troops have inflicted casualties on the Germans in sudden attacks against two strongpoints as Sant'Angelo, three miles south of Cassino, headquarters announced today, while Allied troops in ruined Cassino itself were subjected to renewed violent mortaring and shelling.

The New Zealanders partially destroyed one of the enemy positions.

The shelling of Cassino followed days of comparative quiet in the devastated town. The increase in German activity also included dropping of propaganda leaflets three miles north of the town and heavy shelling in the upper Rapido valley northeast of Sant'Elia.

The Germans, meanwhile, seemed to be on the move in the lower Garigliano sector of the main front. A great deal of transport propelled guns were seen about 2½ miles northeast of Minturno.

Beachhead Calms Down

The Germans, who can control the volume of the Garigliano River's flow by manipulating the dam flood gates on the Liri River, have permitted the Garigliano to drop five feet.

On the beachhead below Rome, German artillery fire slackened somewhat, but their patrols were exceedingly active and were driven off all around the beachhead perimeter.

Poor weather reduced Allied air force activity, but fighter-bombers attacked rail communications in the Rome area and shipping off the Yugoslav coast.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle was confronted with a direct challenge to his authority as president of the French Committee of National Liberation today as General Henri Giraud stood firm on his refusal to accept dismissal as commander-in-chief of the French armed forces.

Giraud's stand apparently left the next move in the contest between the two generals squarely up to de Gaulle, but there was no indication of the latter's probable course of action. The situation was further confused by the assertion of some of Giraud's followers that several members of the liberation committee had threatened to resign in an expression of sympathy with him.

Yugoslav partisans have smashed renewed German thrusts toward the stronghold of Mkrongrad, recently seized by the army of liberation in the Jajce sector of western Bosnia, a communique from the headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

The broadcast bulletin said attempts of the Nazis to attack Banjaluka to the northwest had been thrown back.

CONGRESS' COOPERATION SOUGHT BY HULL TO KEEP POLICIES OUT OF POLITICS

foreign policy operations within the limits which he feels reasonably sure the leaders of both major political parties and the people generally will support. He told his radio audience a plan of organization is "worse than useless" unless it has full support both in this country and in other nations which must subscribe to it if it is to be made effective.

Hull discussed a dozen aspects of present foreign policy operations in obvious response to those critics who have claimed either that the State Department's ways were obscure and secretive or that the department and the administration lacked any basic principles.

Two Main Issues

The issues he discussed fell into two classes: immediate problems leading to victory and future problems of the armistice and post-war organizations. The principal immediate problems were:

France—Hull said the United States would not recognize the French Committee of National Liberation as the government of France because it "is, of course, not the government of France." On the other hand he fully expects that the committee will govern liberated areas of France under the supervision of the Allied invasion chief, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Italy—The United States is hopeful that there may be early reorganization of the Italian government to include representatives of the so-called six anti-Fascist political parties because the present conferences of those parties in Italy hold a "promise of success." No earlier reorganization was possible, Hull said, because military leaders there felt it would not be to the advantage of the military situation to impose reorganization from the top.

Neutral Obligation

Neutrals—Hull laid down the principle that "we no longer can acquiesce in these nations' drawing upon the resources of the Allied world when they at the same time contribute to the death of troops whose sacrifices contribute to their salvation as well as ours." Because United Nations' strength now assures Germany's defeat, Hull said, neutrals no longer can argue that they must compromise with Germany in order to save themselves. He named no specific countries, but his remarks were interpreted to apply alike to Sweden, Ireland, Spain and Portugal, and Turkey.

War Progress—Hull declared "the Allied strength" now has grown to the point where we are on the verge of great events. Obviously having in mind the invasion of western Europe he said he could not discuss what these events were. Insofar as Allied diplomacy for the European war is concerned, he said, its immediate objective is the organization of stable Europe built around progressive democratic governments set up by the people on their own free choice.

Future Discussed

Turning to future problems Hull emphasized that nothing could be accomplished unless the British Commonwealth, the Soviet Union, China and the United States "are harmonized and unless they agree and act together."

"This is the solid framework upon which all future policy and international organization must be built."

As for America's part, Hull declared that "after two years of intensive study the basis upon which our policy must be founded is soundly established; the direction is clear; and the general methods of accomplishment are emerging."

Meanwhile, Hull reported that the European Advisory Commission is at work in London "upon the treatment of Germany," once the Nazis are defeated. He reiterated the common determination of United Nations leaders that there would be no stopping of the war short of complete defeat.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Secretary of State Cordell Hull in his statement on foreign policy yesterday said "it is hard to imagine a stable Europe if there is instability in its component parts, of which France is one of the most important."

Coincidentally in Algiers, there was intensification of the bitter quarrel for power between those two great Frenchmen, Gen. Charles DeGaulle, president of the French committee of national liberation, and Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of the French army. DeGaulle ousted his colleague from the army command, an action which Giraud has refused to recognize. If DeGaulle makes it stick, it will give him both civil and military control.

Associated Press dispatch from Algiers says that DeGaulle's action was in effect a reassertion of his determination to force the Allies to deal with the committee as the sole provisional government for liberated France.

Now this imbroglio in Algiers is symptomatic of, though not necessarily related to, sharp divisions among the people of occupied France—a fact which is largely concealed from us by the Hitlerian cloak of military repression. Here we have the making of a major post-war problem for the Allies, and it may be one of the most dangerous they will have to handle.

The third French republic is dead, and we are on the verge of the rebirth of a great nation. That will not be accomplished without heavy travail.

France in pre-war days was divided into many political parties, ranging from the Communists on the extreme left to the conservatives on the extreme right. They will figure in the creation of the new government. However, there's a far wider and more threatening cleft among the people. That is between the Loyalists and those who have supported the pro-Nazi Vichy regime.

The hatred between these two groups is so great that it will be a wonder if it doesn't result in bloodshed when the Axis control is broken. The Loyalist underground organization already has logged down the names of a host of pro-Vichy Frenchmen who must stand trial for the lives on charges of treason. But it's a question whether in the heat of passion there will be any trials.

Thus we see the force of the reasoning in Secretary Hull's firm declaration that in order to drive the enemy from French territory "the supreme military commander (General Eisenhower) must have unfettered authority." To this Mr. Hull adds what likely will be a bitter pill for DeGaulle personally to swallow—that the French Committee of National Liberation "is, of course, not the government of France and we cannot recognize it as such." This is a direct answer to the general's efforts to secure recognition of the committee as a provisional government.

Mr. Hull, however, while saying that the form and personnel of the new government "must be left to the free and untrammelled choice of the French people," does accord the liberation committee high recognition.

"The president and I," he states, "are clear, therefore, as to the need, from the outset, of French civil administration—and Democratic French administration—in France. We are disposed to see the French Committee of National Liberation exercise leadership to

CANTATA GIVEN BY CHURCH CHOIR SUNDAY NIGHT

North Street Church of Christ Choir Gives First Program In Re-decorated Church

The North Street Church of Christ choir, directed by Miss Christine Switzer, presented its Easter cantata, "Hosanna", Sunday night, the first special program to be given in the newly decorated church.

Following the organ prelude, the congregation joined in singing "In the Cross of Christ I Glory" after which Rev. R. Byron Carver read the scripture and offered prayer.

The several weeks of practices and hard work were culminated as the members of the choir sang the 13 numbers in the cantata. The program presented was: opening chorus, "Blessed Is He," choir; "And They Took Jesus", Lyle Sowders and choir; "Alleluia, Sing Ye", Miss Marjorie Swartz and choir; "Upon the First Day", Mrs. Paul Thornhill, Miss Betty Johnson and Miss Marcia Highley; "The Lord Is Risen Indeed", choir; "The Dawn Divine", Miss Marcia Highley and choir; "Morning of Life", Miss Christine Switzer and Lyle Sowders; "A New Song", choir; "We Hail a Risen Lord", women's voices; "Serve Him Forever", Miss Marjorie Swartz, Miss Mary Jane Hyer and choir; "Bells of Easter, Ring", Miss Patty Cabbage and choir; "Oh Send the Word", choir and the finale, "Christ Arose", choir.

The choir wore for the first time its new maroon colored robes with white collars. Lilies, tulips and jonquils were arranged around the platform.

Members of the choir are sopranos: Miss Marjorie Swartz, Mrs. Paul Thornhill, Mrs. Harriett Jenkins, Miss Patty Cabbage, Miss Mary Ellen Johnson, Miss Jean Spencer, Miss Mary Jenkins, Miss Jane Cummings, Miss Alice Davis and Miss Laurabel Saunders; altos: Miss Marcia Highley, Miss Mary Jane Hyer, Miss Betty Johnson and Mrs. Paul Spencer; basses: Lyle Sowders, Coyt Stookey, Dwight Davis and Norman Trout.

Organist and accompanist for the cantata was Mrs. R. B. Carver.

The invitation hymn, "I Hear Thy Welcome Voice" followed by the benediction and postlude, closed the program.

establish law and order under the supervision of the Allied commander in chief."

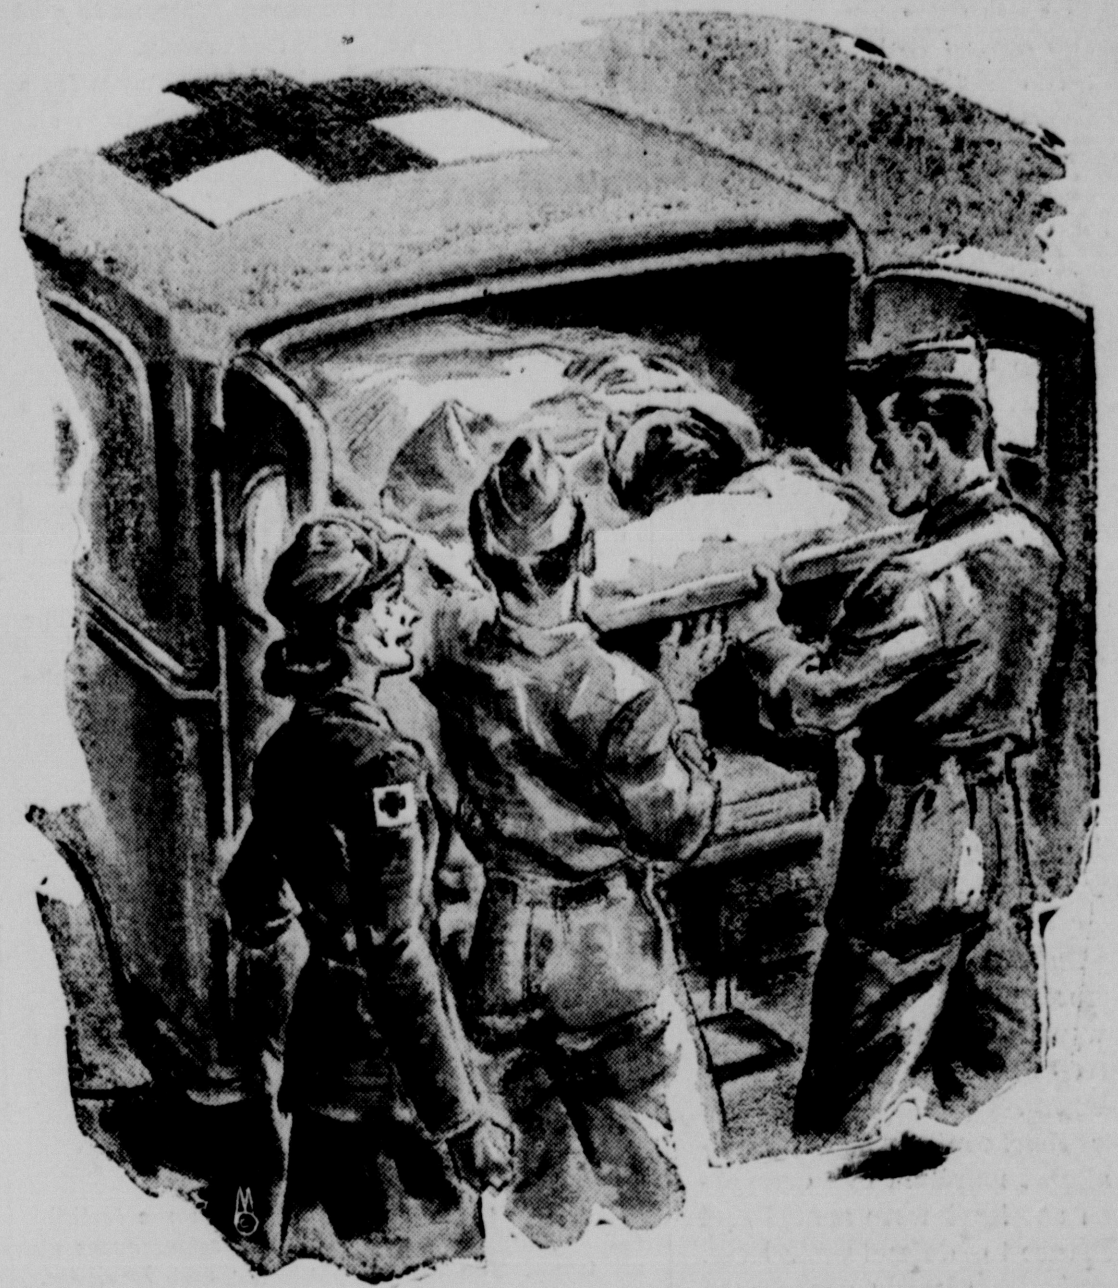

In short, with poor France so shattered and disorganized, the only safe and sane course is to have Allied military control there in the early days of liberation.

Plan Now-To "Sign Up" As A Blood Donor!

(Watch the Record-Herald for Dates and Details)

If a wounded fighter lay dying before you, and you were told that a transfusion of your blood—then and there—could save him, you wouldn't hesitate to donate that blood. There is no reason then to fail to donate blood to be converted into plasma which the Red Cross collects here at home, and makes available at every point of combat. It's one of the most vital ways you can get in the fight, without yourself being on a battlefield. Housewife, businessman, student, war plant worker—not one of us who is able—can refuse.

• REGISTER NOW FOR APRIL 24 and 25 •

(Phone 8611 for Appointment)

HELP SAVE OUR WOUNDED SOLDIERS!

GIVE BLOOD TO THOSE WHO ARE BLEEDING FOR YOU!

Thousands of blood donors are needed from time to time to supply the life-saving plasma for the Army and Navy. Would you give a pint of blood to save a life? It is painless, precious, patriotic and priceless. When the wagon comes, make an appointment with the Red Cross—keep plasma flowing to the battle fronts. All persons in good health, 21 to 60 years of age, are eligible as blood donors, excepting those who have had a major operation within six months or a mother with a child under one year of age.

Is it safe? The blood donor is safeguarded by competent physicians and trained nurses. The blood is sent to chemical laboratories and processed into dried plasma and delivered to the Army and Navy. Chemists process it, first aid stations at the battle lines administer it to wounded soldiers, sailors and flyers. Save their lives—one of them may be your son, relative, sweetheart, neighbor or friend.

Is it good? Yes; it is a natural, new, magical medicine for shock, burns, loss of blood, etc. No blood-typing is necessary. Plasma keeps for years and can be administered almost immediately. In many instances it is better than the usual blood transfusions. How often can a blood donor give blood? Donations have been made 6, 8, or 10 times by the same persons, two months apart, without harm or ill effect.

When the wagon arrives in the community, arrange with the Red Cross for an appointment. After the appointment is made, do not break it, because no person can take your place.

Brutal Sport Reincarnated

The Colosseum, no doubt, is classed among the "cultural monuments" of Rome now threatened by approaching battle. It has been preserved to remind the world of the glories of that great pagan city which flourished where the City of the Popes now stands.

But it took the Nazis to remind the world also of the brutal sport that used to attract howling thousands to the great arena. And there are probably few more barbarous chapters in the Colosseum's bloody history than that added in the year 1944 when, according to Swiss dispatches, 300 hostages were murdered there in reprisal for a patriotic uprising against the German conquerors.

In fact, the ancient contests of the gladiators seems almost merciful by comparison. These men at least were armed and given a fair chance to defend their lives. Many were criminals already condemned to die. All, when wounded, had the right of appeal to the mercy of the spectators. And surely the mob did not always turn thumbs down.

No, the Nazi chapter in Colosseum history belongs with those of early Christian martyrdom. Those brave professors of a new faith were "enemies of the established order." That was their crime. That was also the crime of the 300 victims of the Nazis. It was not a matter of whether they had shot the guns or thrown the bombs that killed 38 German soldiers and Fascist militiamen. They were chosen to fulfill a promised ten-to-one reprisal because they had fled Fascism when Mussolini fell, or because, like stout-hearted old Vittorio Orlando, they had always resisted it.

In their death the Romans may now see and taste the fruit which in two decades has sprung from the seed of Fascism.

The Nazis have turned back the pages of Rome's history to a time of cruelty and oppression which Rome had forgotten. Wild beasts in the second century or machine guns in the twentieth, the intent and result were the same.

Churchmen plead that Rome may be spared. Their plea is natural and understandable.

But the Nazis are in Rome now. They have shown themselves as they really are, in a spurge of brutality and perverted bravado. They have not spared Rome's people, and they will not spare its antiquities if they are challenged.

Perhaps they have demonstrated to Rome that, if bombs are necessary to drive them out, they are bombs of liberation.

Be Sure It's Right

Letters are unquestionably the biggest morale builder an overseas soldier or sailor has. If you're corresponding with one, you know that already. If you aren't, just read any war correspondent on the subject. That is one thing on which the journalists are in complete agreement.

Since letters are so important, it is disheartening to see an Army statement that 15 per cent of mail to soldiers overseas is improperly or insufficiently addressed. So remember that the envelope needs rank, full name with middle initial, serial number, service organization and unit, APO number and postmaster at point of embarkation through which the mail is routed.

And don't rely on memory, the Army advises, if you're the least bit unsure of the address.

When you can impress others without even trying, that's personality.

Diet and Health

Milk and Honey Inadequate Diet

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

WHEN the angel of the Lord appeared to Moses out of the burning bush, He promised that He would deliver the Israelites out of the hand of the Egyptians and

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

bring them to "a land flowing with milk and honey: unto the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites and the Amorites."

This apparently sounded good to Moses and his tribe, but personally I can remember away back in Sunday School that I was very skeptical about milk and honey as a steady diet. At long last, the question has been submitted to modern scientific arbitrament. For reasons that are not too crystal clear to me, the Division of Agricultural Bio-chemistry of the University of Minnesota has been investigating how a man would thrive on an exclusively milk and honey diet.

As I say, I do not know why this question came up as I have never heard of anyone since the Exodus proposing that men should live exclusively on milk and honey, but nutritionists have a poetic streak in them and it is worth while to examine the research, because it gives an insight into how modern nutritionists go about solving problems.

Milk Diet Inadequate

An exclusive milk diet for an adult is not adequate. One can get enough calories out of milk although it requires a good deal of bulk. In a Wisconsin experiment station several students lived on milk alone except for some orange juice and some added minerals for three months. They drank as much as they wanted, which was 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 quarts a day. They maintained their weight and in fact some of them gained and they all felt well and satisfied.

But milk besides the large amount required is inadequate in iron and in copper, manganese and iodine, all necessary for nutrition. The Vitamin C is inadequate in pasteurized milk: that is why orange juice is added to infant feeding. Another vitamin, nicotinic acid, is low, and it is low in Vitamin D. Vitamin B in milk is adequate if enough milk to maintain weight is taken.

The Minnesota investigators casting around for a single food substance that would supplement a milk ration lit on honey. Dark honey has four times as much caloric value as milk, five times as much iron, and has good quantities of Vitamin C, Vitamin B and nicotinic acid. Vitamin D is low, but adults need very little Vitamin D.

Milk and Honey Tests

Five healthy adults ranging in age from 22 to 44 years went on a diet consisting of one quart of milk and 100 grams of honey a day. Some iodine was added, this being in Minnesota which is an iodine poor state. The iodine was to protect against goiter and keep the thyroid gland satisfied.

Tests were made every so often of the blood of these subjects, and a thorough physical examination including a dental examination. The blood examinations determined whether the minerals necessary to life—calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, etc.—were present in proper proportions. Also whether the vitamins—B, C and others—were present in the blood in the proper proportions. This is done in all carefully conducted researches, and should come as a surprise to those who just guess they need some vitamins or iron and call at the drug store for a package: such action is not a controlled nutritional study.

During the test period three of the subjects lost weight and two gained. The vitamins stayed pretty low in the blood, but no serious symptoms of deficiency occurred. In general it may be said that Moses had his hopes raised too high by the idea that milk and honey is an entirely adequate diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. B.—I have a dog with follicular mange and the veterinary tells me to rub medicine on the sore. I wonder if a human being can catch it.

Answer: One of the nicest things about dogs is that they have different diseases from ours. Neither distemper or mange affects humans.

E. W. P.—Is it true that one fruit contains more acid than another? Can you print a list of acid and non-acid foods and what effect they have on the body?

Answer: Most fruits contain considerable organic acids, citric acid being the most familiar. As eaten they are acid, but they turn to an alkaline reaction in the body due to oxidation and the formation of potassium bicarbonate. Tomatoes, oranges, pears, peaches, apricots and pineapple for this reason tend to diminish the acidity of the urine; cranberries, plums and prunes tend to increase it on account of the large amount of quinic acid they contain.

NORTH TO DANGER by TOM GILL

SYNOPSIS

Seeking to escape mysterious pursuers, Colin Rae, of the Hendrik's Bay Company, takes refuge in the hotel room of an attractive young woman in Winnipeg, Canada. He denies he is a criminal, and promises to get her plane transportation to Learmonth where they have a mutual friend, Rodney Selkirk. She conceals Colin, bravely barring the self-styled "police" from her room. Then they observe a small, bespectacled man standing across the street. "Once I heard him called the most dangerous man in Canada," said Colin. The girl identifies herself as Irina Meredith, they leave the hotel separately, meet later, and taxi to a local airport where they find Blair Benedict near his small airplane. There is a brief, joyous reunion in which Colin and Blair before the plane takes off with Blair at its wheel. En route to the airport, Colin had told Irina that the so-called "most dangerous man" was Jonathan Dove who conducted two Indian schools, one in Learmonth, the other in Wolverine.

High over fields of fresh-fallen snow Blair's plane was heading straight into the north, following the Winnipeg River, then angling westward to the lake. They passed the Narrows, and soon the last village fell away, the last road was crossed, and ahead lay leagues of rivers, lakes, low ridges, and muskeg swamps—black, desolate and big man picked up the skin of a blue fox and almost lovingly ran his fingers over the long guard hairs. "What a beauty! Look, Dove. Can you send me anything better from Learmonth?"

Quietly as a cat Dove had risen. "I may send you something even better from Learmonth." And the two men smiled into each other's eyes.

Close together the two men sat, one of them large and swarthy, a dead cigar in his mouth. The other, slight of figure, and wearing gold-rimmed spectacles, kept turning a faded derby in his never-resting hands. A strangely expressionless face: the skin drawn tight, like parchment, and behind it, as if from behind a mask, the mild gray eyes looking out.

The big man shook a pelt, causing the thick red fur to gleam. "Prime, eh? Lovely! And our fall catch sold for the best market in years." He looked toward the closed door, then asked casually, "What about Wolverine?"

The smaller man had taken a sudden interest in the markings of the pelt. "My work in Wolverine is done. The place is crowded with mounted police. Learmonth comes next. The reservation has four thousand Cree Indians, and the stage is set. Give me a little time—they move slowly, my barbarians—but when trouble comes, what can the Canadian Government do?"

"They can call in more mounted police."

"Exactly. Call them down from the bay—and leave its south shores unprotected."

The big man laid the pelt before him. "The Party relies on you absolutely, Johann. So do I." He glanced at his companion's hands, then quickly looked away. "But some of the council suspect you of a certain—ah, a certain eagerness for violence."

Stiffly the impassive face jerked in a smile. "You talk like a sentimental American. Since when has the Party frowned on violence?"

"But we want no more premature deaths at Wolverine."

"There might be one I cannot help."

"That Hendrik's Bay fellow?"

"That Hendrik's Bay fellow may know too much. He is clever and without fear. Also, I think, a little crazy—a bad combination to play with." Again the lips trembled in what may have been a smile. "So if he persists in interfering, I cannot guarantee—"

The other waved a negligent hand. "In that case, of course."

The door opened. A young man entered, bearing another armload of furs, and laid them on the table. They waited until he had gone. The unending, stretching to the frozen waters of the bay.

From the controls Blair glanced back at Colin. "That's Behrens River under us. Two more hours and you'll be home."

Home! Rae drew a deep breath and saw Irina watching him. "Learmonth is my first memory," he told her. "There's not a lake or a river I haven't paddled or trapped in."

"You're a trapper?"

"No. I worked with the Hendrik's Bay Company there until two years ago."

"Hendrik's Bay. That's why you're a friend of Rodney Selkirk. Tell me about him."

"It's hard to know where to begin. There's not an Indian, white man, or breed up in that country who wouldn't give him his shirt. He's the most human man I ever knew, shy and sensitive—more like a schoolmaster than a chief factor of the biggest fur company in the world." Colin stopped. "And up where we're going, Rodney Selkirk is more important than the company itself."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean the human things he stands for. He's given his life to making this north country a better place to live in, and he's done it single-handed. The Indians and breeds owe it to Selkirk that the white trappers didn't clean out the ings.

"There is really a science to this lip reading," says Nicky as he takes the imprint of Gloria Vanderbilt de Cicco. "You see, her upper lip indicates that she is unspoiled and modest—while the roundness of the mouth corners of the lower lip indicate that she has strong convictions."

Carol Landis is psychic, Nicky believes. The symmetrical balance of her lips indicates this, he says. Also, the lower middle part of the top lip shows an independent nature.

The generosity of Gloria Baker Topping is indicated by the upper top line of her lower lip while the fact that she is "an indefatigable worker" is shown by the opening between the upper and lower lip.

Gracie Fields' lower lip, he says, shows she doesn't care for money; her upper lip indicates a strong faith in human nature.

Women are so anxious to have their lips look alluring that most make 5 or 20 trial imprints before they are satisfied to select one for permanent plastering on Nicky's ceiling. Others will carefully paint their lips on the card with a brush.

"These I tear up," says Nicky, who believes girls who try to change the shape of their mouths have inferiority complexes.

"A real modest girl like Alice Faye will give an imprint without caring whether it's beautiful or not," says Nicky.

More than 10,000 lip prints form the decor of the club, many hand-painted by Nicky, who used to be a sculptor. But it was while he was a movie actor that he discovered lips had a scientific angle. He collected imprints for a book, "Beautiful Lips I Have Known," now sidetracked in favor of the science of "lipology."

The most beautiful lips in the world, says Nicky, belong to De Vincis' Mona-Lisa, a composition of the lips of every woman—sensual, sweet, kind and romantic.

Irina quietly announced, "I am going to marry Rodney Selkirk."

Cafe Society Puts Lip Prints on Ceiling

By VIVIAN BROWN

NEW YORK—Lipology is the newest pastime of the social, screen and glamor set.

It makes no difference whether you purse your lips, purr like a kitten or grin like a Cheshire cat—you can't fool Nicky Quattrociocchi, author of the new craze. "No two lip imprints are alike," says the handsome Nicky, who can't decide whether he's sorry he was overheard making that remark or not. Because today in his El Boracho Club, feminine curiosity has trapped him into being cast in the role of a swami. He has installed a "kiss room" with over 4,000 signed lip imprints gracing the walls and ceiling.

Indoor Start for Victory Garden

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

NUDGING NATURE a little bit will save from four to six weeks' time in getting your Victory garden off to a flying start. This means, however, starting seeds indoors. And this involves certain procedures which must be carefully observed.

Seeds planted indoors in "flats" should be given the benefit of a "made to order" soil. The ideal soil mixture for starting seeds indoors consists of equal parts of rich garden loam, clean, coarse sand and either leaf mold or peat, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Seed saved from last year's plantings should be tested for germination before being used. The easiest way to do this is to scatter a few of the seeds on a piece of white blotting paper. Set the paper in a shallow pan of water, as illustrated. Cover the first piece of blotting paper with a second piece to form a "seed sandwich." Set the pan of water in a warm room. Check seed in three to five days, and continue to check for several weeks. Then, depending upon how many seeds have shown life, decided on sowing thickly, thinly or discarding the seed entirely for a new and fresh supply.

League of Women Voters Will Meet In Chicago, Ill.

"During four spring days while millions of Americans offer their lives to win another chance to make a better U.S.A., the League of Women Voters will consider what it can do for its country thereafter, and how."

In these words the Board of Directors of the National League of Women Voters issued a call to the thirty-five affiliated State Leagues to send delegates to its sixteenth National Convention to be held in Chicago, Ill., from April 28 to May 1, 1944. The list of names of those who will attend from this county is not yet complete, Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, county president, aware of the difficulties of meeting in war-time, but recognizing that the responsibilities the citizen in a democracy must assume are heavier and more crucial than ever before, the Board of Directors calls the League of Women Voters together in convention to make decisions which it says will be fraught with consequences unequalled in its previous history.

Stripped of the usual entertainments, banquets and sight-seeing trips, it will be a purely working convention during which the delegates will decide upon the active program of the League of Women Voters for the coming two years, and upon the structure of the League necessary to carry out that program. Delegates are told that they will hold in their hands the future usefulness of the League of Women Voters.

The League, organized in 1920 when women were enfranchised, has grown into an organization with members in 1500 communities throughout the United States, and is well known for its non-partisan political action in the public interest. Since Pearl Harbor, the League's chief energies have been expended in an effort to create a ground swell of public understanding of the need for international collaboration and upon legislative work on inflation, control, including higher taxes, subsidies and wage and price control.

Carol Ann Hook Feted at Dinner Saturday Eve

A cleverly-arranged centerpiece of a horse-drawn cart filled with multi-colored Easter eggs centered the table when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hook entertained with a family birthday dinner, feting their daughter, Carol Ann, on her first birthday Saturday evening.

Flanking the centerpiece were yellow tapers, burning in crystal holders and the meal was enjoyed in candlelight at the large table in the attractively-appointed dining room. Favors were little duck and bunny faces inscribed on Easter eggs, and these were trimmed with gay spring bonnets.

The adorable little tot was showered with a number of dainty and practical gifts from the guests, who all gathered at this time to fete her on this memorable occasion, her first birthday.

Visiting was enjoyed during the remainder of the evening.

Those present were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Speaks and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hook, Miss Bobby Lou Speaks, Miss Eleanor Hook and her great grandfather, Mr. W. N. West.

The bride wore for her marriage a pastel-blue three-piece suit with which she combined black and white accessories. At the shoulder was pinned a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mr. Fogle is employed by the War Department in the Air Service Command at Fairfield, Ohio, where he will be for the duration.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Fogle are now at home to their friends on the CCC highway.

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. ## —Spying— On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 10—(AP)—That guy with the white coat and the loud voice won't be kidding this year when he hollers: "You can't tell the players without a score card." In fact, the printer will have to work fast some days so that you can tell 'em with a score card. So, just to help baseball fans become better acquainted with the numerous newcomers, this department will introduce them briefly from day to day. Here goes:

A Rookie A Day
Grey Clarke, White Sox third baseman—led American Association batters with .346 at Milwaukee last year; good team player and a steady player on the hot corner. Called "Noisy" by the Brewers because he isn't. Chews a big cud of "Eatin' Tobacco" and his uniform usually looks like Pepper Martin's used to. The Sox' laundry bill is sure to go up.

Carl Lindquist, Braves pitcher—a 15-game winner for Hartford last season. Started campaign by blanking Springfield on opening day; topped it off Sept. 4 by getting married the same day he won game 15; the next day the fans chipped in $179.55 for a wedding present.

Freedom Of Reach
Basketball's anti-goal tending rule must have been a severe blow to Long Jim McIntyre, who scored 86 points in three games to face Patrick Henry of Minneapolis to the Minnesota High School title. At 16, Jim was six feet, 7-1/2 inches tall and weighs 225 pounds. With that human tower in lineup, we assume Patrick Henry must have changed that famous line to read: "Give him liberty or give the other team two points."

Monday Matinee
Frank Leahy, who was here awaiting orders to go overseas for the USO, has turned up on the Notre Dame campus again. Challenge Me, who became an important Kentucky Derby candidate by winning the Oaklawn Handicap and Arkansas Derby, likely will be Louisville's local pride this year. He was bred by Lt. Warner Jones, Jr., of Goshen, Ky., who is stationed at Fort Knox. In the last 729 championship games between national football league teams, only 25 have been won by the one point after a touchdown.

Hurler from Cubs Revives Hopes of Cincinnati Fans

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 10—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds began their final week's training today prior to the opening game of the season with the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati April 18.

Yesterday the Cubs and Reds were slated to play an exhibition at Louisville, Ky., but the weatherman interfered causing a cancellation.

Saturday the Reds beat a lot of guys named Joe wearing Cub uniforms in Louisville to the tune of 10 to 3. High spot of that contest was the unveiling of Senor Tomas De La Cruz, a Cuban, who pitched the first six innings for the Reds and allowed but two bingles.

Reds And Cards Take Spotlight

By JOE REICHLER

New York, April 10—(AP)—Tabbed by some as the teams with the best chances of winning the pennants, the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds of the National League, and the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians of the American League, to date have dominated the red flannel or spring exhibition baseball circuit.

With the opening of the regular season only a week off, the National League champions and runner-ups are deadlocked for the lead, each having won three games without a reversal.

The Senators top the American League teams with four wins and one loss, with the Indians close behind, having won two of three.

Only one of the Cardinals' three victories was gained against major league opposition, that one against their city rivals, the

Two wins last week while the second place Coca Colas were getting a three-game beating, put the Mt. Sterling bowlers a little further out in front as the Men's City League moved into its 28th round of matches. But, they were not so far ahead that they could afford to let down. Behind them in third and fourth positions were Jeffersonville's Ringers and the Producers in a nip and tuck battle. And, neither team could be definitely counted out of the running although their chances of taking top honors were admittedly slim.

Lloyd's Markettes eased on away from Light's Dairymaids in the Women's City League by making a clean sweep of last week's match while the second placed could do no better than two out of three. Hawkinson's Treasures won only a single game last week but they held a slight lead over Craig's always-dramatic Airsteppers. The Farmerettes lost all three of their games but were still in no immediate danger of being ousted from their fifth position by the Business and Professional Women who displaced the Record-Herald Newgirls in sixth place. The Morris Store girls remained on the bottom.

The Foremen romped merrily along at the front of the API Men's League followed, not too close for comfort, by the Production crew and the Office boys. The No. 1 team of Inspectors recovered from a slump and regained fourth place followed by the Production Controllers and Engineers, tied for fifth and sixth places. The No. 2 team of Inspectors were within easy striking distance of the first division but the Heat Treaters appeared doomed to the cellar.

The Aeronauts, who displaced the faltering Gremlins about a month ago, today were entrenched at the top of the API Women's League. The real race in the loop, however, was among the Spitfires, P-38s, B-19s and Gliders, bringing up the rear in that order.

NAZI PLANE FACTORIES ARE BLASTED BY ALLIES; YANKS GO INTO POLAND

came as a swift follow-up to long-range daylight assaults yesterday by large forces of U. S. heavy bombers against key Nazi aircraft factories in Poland, East Prussia and northeast Germany.

Heaviest Attack Yet

Although the Paris area had been hit by American daylight raiders during the past year, the former French capital received its last heavy night blow from the RAF on May 30, 1942.

Lille, an important railway and manufacturing center in northern France with a peacetime population of nearly 100,000, had been bombed many times by both the British and Americans.

One of the most vital industries there is the German-controlled Five-Lille Steel and Engineering works producing steam and electric locomotives, bridge-building materials and other heavy engineering equipment. The plant has a capacity of 100 to 150 mainline type of locomotives annually.

The city is one of the principal junctions on the northern railway. The German radio said the Villeneuve-St. Georges attack left at least 100 persons dead and a large number injured.

Vast Area Bombed

The broadcast declared the "attackers scattered bombs over a vast area and some 10 localities were hit severely. Simultaneously other formations attacked a town in northern France, where damage was serious."

The RAF lost 94 planes in its last sizeable operation, an attack on Nurnberg, March 30. British Lancasters have been out only once this month, blasting aircraft repair plants in Toulouse, France, April 5, but not in great strength.

Five hundred to 750 U. S. heavy bombers took part in the widespread daylight assaults yesterday, smashing at aircraft factories at Poznan (Posen) and in the Gdynia area of Poland, Marienburg in East Prussia and Warnemunde and Tutow in northeast Germany in operations which took some of the bombers beyond range of their fighter escort.

Thirty-one heavy bombers and eight fighters failed to return from the raids which, counting the fighters, were carried out between 1,500 and 1,750 American warplanes. The Swedish radio said 10 American heavy bombers were forced down in Sweden.

Thunderbolt, Lightning and Mustang fighter pilots reported they shot down 20 Nazi planes in air combat and also destroyed some on the ground on airdromes in Germany.

German planes flew over a southwest coastal district of England last night, but there were no reports of bombs having been dropped. It was the first break in the quiet light-of-the-moon period which has kept the island free of alarms since March 27, when the Nazis visited the southwest coast and Berlin said Bristol was bombed.

DOG LICENSING BIG BUSINESS IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Yearly Receipts More Than
$5,000 To Pay Claims
For Dead Sheep

Dogs make up a big business for Fayette County—not as a private commercial enterprise, but in the volume of transactions and the amount of money they represent officially on the books in the auditor's office.

Complete figures are not available for this year although the books are up to date for the first three months and eight days. But, those for last year can be taken as a fairly accurate criterion.

Last year, license fees amounted to $4,155.15, the sale of dogs (presumably to the state university for experimental purposes, though not noted) brought in $1,187.79 and the balance carried over from the previous year brought the total up to $5,342.94. Money from license fees is used to pay what are commonly termed "sheep claims"—damages to farmers for livestock killed by dogs. The amount of the fee, it was explained, is determined by the amount of money paid out in claims, plus the cost of enforcement.

Last year, $2,267.10 was paid out to farmers whose sheep had been killed by dogs, $89.30 in fees to witnesses in establishing the guilt of dogs in the death of livestock, $1,440 in salary to Otis Boncutter, the dog warden and $686.97 in incidental miscellaneous expenses to bring the total up to $4,491.82.

Payments last year covered claims for 273 dead sheep and one hog.

Already this year, $1,751 has been paid out for sheep claimed killed by dogs and there are still on file in the auditor's office 13 claims totalling $419.40. Witness fees to date this year amount to $58.40.

More dogs have been licensed during the first three months of this year than were licensed in the entire 12 months of 1943. This year 2,528 licenses have been issued while last year the total ran to only 2,354. Fees are the same this year as last, $1.50 for male and spayed female, $4.50 (three times that for males) for females and $15 (ten times that for males) for kennel licenses. The fee ration is fixed by law. The records did not list separately the number of females, males and kennels in the county and while Ulric Acton, the auditor and Morris Baker, one of his deputies, leafed through one big book after another and added columns of figures to gather the data on the county's dog business, the task of breaking down the current listings of licenses would have required more time than was left in the regular hours of the day. Last year's records showed, however, 12 kennels in the county and the belief was expressed that it would be about the same this year. The impression also prevailed that there were more males than females licensed.

Although dog licensing this year is running well ahead of 1943, the dog warden has served notice that the check on unlicensed dogs is to be intensified now. Three months, it was believed, should be ample time for owners to get their dogs licensed. "All unlicensed dogs will be seized and impounded," Boncutter said, under provisions of the state law which provides that dogs more than three months old be licensed. He also cited sections of the general code of Ohio which provide fines of $25 and costs for owners who fail to license their dogs and the same for owners who fail to keep their dogs "upon premises tied with collar and chain" between sunset and sunrise.

NAVY TEST WILL BE GIVEN AGAIN ON WEDNESDAY

Overflow of Applicants at Last Test Brings
Repeat

The Navy radio technician test will be given here again Wednesday. Recruiting Officers Willard Porter and Curtis Beede said.

When the test was given here April 5, more men appeared at the Legion Home than the recruiters had expected, so the second test, to be given in the Legion Home from 2 to 4 P. M., will be for the overflow of men who were disappointed last Wednesday.

The examination is not, it is pointed out, an I. Q. test, but an instrument for measuring aptitude for the radio technicians' course of the Navy.

No special preparation is needed, Beede explained. The ten months course for which a man is eligible after he passes the test is equivalent to a three-year college course in electronics.

Men who have already passed induction tests for the Navy are eligible for this test, Beede emphasized. Enlistment as a seaman first class instead of as an apprentice seaman follows as soon as the Eddy Test is passed.

"The need for radio technicians is in the field of some of the most fascinating and colorful scientific developments of the war; developments which not only hasten the day of victory, but also indicate broad horizons of new opportunity in commercial enterprise after the war is over," Beede said. He emphasized that many of the developments in ultra high-frequency electronics will not be known to commercial engineers after the war is over.

The test itself covers basic mathematics, fundamental electricity, elementary physics, practical shop work and simple radio. Particular stress is placed upon mathematics. Each applicant is notified within a few days whether or not he passed the test satisfactorily.

PRE - INDUCTION TESTS GIVEN TO 86 FAYETTE MEN

Many Farmers and Business Men Included in New Contingent

The steel hand of war reached into Fayette County once more, Monday, and took 86 additional young men for pre-induction physical tests.

These men included farmers and young business men, many of them well known in the city and community. They were sent to Cincinnati in two large buses, leaving here shortly before 8 A. M.

The men were to be given their physical tests at Cincinnati, and returned to their homes to await formal summons into the service if they pass the tests.

Eugene Smith was named leader of the contingent, which assembled at the Selective Service board's office. George Pensyl and Paul Wrobel were named assistant leaders.

Each call is expected to dip deeper into the reserve and take more men under 26 years of age. Quite a number of men will be formally inducted into service sometime next week.

In accordance with a Selective Service ruling, names of the men who went for pre-induction examination were withheld. Names are released only when they are inducted. Those who fail to pass the pre-induction are not announced.

"The impact when we struck the ground was cushioned, and there was a slushing sound. I knew we had hit a tree. I got the idea I was a dead man. Then I heard a snapping sound, like flames, and realized I had to get out quick."
